The case of Stodfurd & Gilbert, of Norwich, against Louis Gentile, of Westerly, was given a partial hearing pafere Judge Oliver H. Williams in the Third District court, Friday. Upon request of Everett A Kingsley, counsel for plaintiff, there was continuance for one week in order to have an essential witness present. John J. Dunn, counsel for respondent objected, but the objection was overruled. The claim is made that two packages of groceries were delivered at Gentile's store, valued at $19.70 that the goods were delivered October 25, 1913, and that Gentile refuses to pay for same. Teamster Charles R. Crandall delivered the goods. There was no one in the store goods. There was no one in the store at the time and he left the goods without receipt while he made another delivery in the vicinity. When he returned for signature on the delivery sheet the store was closed. Several efforts to have Gentile sign a receipt ere fruitless.
Gentile makes claim that he never ectived the goods and therefore has efused to pay the bill.

PLAINFIELD

Samuel J. Tilden Club, Organized in 1876, Still Active—Exciting Times of Parades and Flag Raisings.

The closest democratic club in this vicinity is said to be the Samuel J. Tilden club, organized in the town of Plainfield Aug. 23, 1876, by Walter Palmer, Dr. Frank Burgess, A. B. Sprague, Henry C. Starkweather, John

Spalding, Chester T. Spalding, Albert C. Greene, George Dawley, Gurdon Cady and Col. Amos Witter, all dead long ago. This club has on the anniversary of its organization each year, for 38 years, held an annual election, being at present chartered under the National Democratic Club association. Saturday afternoon. Aug. 22 1914. Saturday afternoon, Aug. 22, 1914, William F. Curran of Moosup was for the 18th time elected president. The club unanimously indorsed Hon. George M. Landers for governor and Hon, E. F. Mahan for United States

enator.

The Samuel J. Tilden club elected

The Samuel J. Tilden club elected delegates to three conventions that nominated Grover Cleveland, to two conventions that nominated W. J. Bryan, and also to the Hancock and Parker convention. and at one time every postmaster in the town was a member of the organization.

The Tilden Marching club was led by the old Plainfield band, Willis Fenner leader, Brad. Tift drummer and F. H. Tillinghast snare drummer. Among other members were Walter L. Palmer, Frank Palmer, Daniel and Turner Greene, Will Craft, Herbert Rice, William Holloway, Milton and Walter Kingsley, John Spalding. Turner Greene, Will Craft, Herbert Rice, William Holloway, Milton and Walter Kingsley, John Spalding, George Fowler, Jason Lathrop, Frank Holloway and others.

During this campaign the Tilden Glee club sang a song written by C. B. Montgomery of Packer in the tune of Auld Lang Syna:

From Georgia to the pines of Maine Our gathering forces swarm, And westward rolls the glad refrain Of Tilden and reform."

The boys had red capes and caps and were drilled by Capt. Edw. Hall. Excitement ran high and the small boys of the village formed a company led by Fred W. Tillinghast, captain, and Archie Spalding, who had a drum. This company held their parades in the early twilight and when Dr. E. H. Davis invited them to his house for a supper they were a proud and happy group of boys, for the doctor was noted far and near for his banquets, but when they gathered at the appointed time and place the busy doctor had forgotten all about the invitation and was not even at home. The young-forgotten all about the invitation and was not even at home. The youngsters brought it to his attention the next day and he repeated the invitation, and made it a point to be on hand with the promised treat.

In those days each party held a flag raising in the village, with a supper in Union hall, to which the Indies were invited, and there were also suppers at private houses, and a final one by the victors after election. There were lively political discussions at Tillinghast's store and even at the Ladies' Sewing society. After the November election all was forgotten and the people settled down for another four years.

BELGIAN COMMISSION HERE TO PROTEST

AGAINST ALLEGED GERMAN ATROCITIES:

BURNING OF LOUVAIN CALLED OUTRAGE

Alleged atrocities claimed to have been committed by German soldiers in Belgium, particularly at Louvain, which they destroyed by fire, will be laid before President Wilson by a commission of four prominent Belgians. They came to America purposely to air their grievances against the Germans and to protest against future violations of the recognized laws of war. In the adcompanying cut the commissioners are, lest to right: P. Hymans, Henry Gaston de Wiart, minister of peace in the Belgian cabinet and chairman of the commission; L. de Sadeleer and Minster of State Vas de Velde. The burning of Louvain by the Germans has caused much comment throughout the world. The Belgians claimed there was no excuse for it, that it was an act of savagery. The Germans claimed they were forced to use extreme measures to punish the citizens who shot at them from windows. Kaiser Wilhelm regretted these measures in his official messageto President Wilson, recently made public.
